Fermilab – Access Roadway Alignment

Fermi National Accelerator Laboratory Batavia, Illinois

The project consisted of investigative field work and establishment of various access roadway alignments for proposed grading and paving improvements to the campus access roadway system. The main focus of the investigation was on Road A and Road C to align with the main Research & Development facility.

Topographic Site Conditions, Conceptual Drainage Plan, Conceptual Roadway alignment